

FCT PhD PROGRAMME

3rd CYCLE – PhD IN LAW
2017/2018

Notice of Call for Applications for 8 (eight) Individual Research and PhD Grants

The PhD in Law Programme at Universidade Nova de Lisboa's Law School ("Programme") has been selected as part of the Portuguese Foundation for Science and Technology's ("FCT") funding scheme. 8 (eight) research grants ("BI") per edition have been awarded, followed by 5 (five) mixed PhD studentships ("BD"), also per edition, for a total of four editions of this Programme, for the academic years of 2014/2015, 2015/2016, 2016/2017 and 2017/2018.

As part of this scheme, it is the responsibility of the Programme's Steering Committee to select the students who will receive the grants funded by FCT. Subsequently, those students selected will sign their research grant contracts directly with FCT.

Thus, according to the Research Fellowship Holder Statute,¹ and the FCT Regulation of Studentships and Fellowships,² the Programme Steering Committee invites applications for the 8 (eight) individual research grants (BI) starting on or after 1st November 2017, exclusively designed for students admitted to the 2017/2018 edition of our Programme.

RESEARCH GRANTS (BI) – 8 individual Research Grants

Research grants awarded as part of this scheme are intended for graduates with first-cycle degrees and master's degrees. The grants last for one year. In the second year, annual, mixed PhD grants will be awarded. They will be renewable for up to 3 years, in a total of 4 fully funded years, and will be allocated to 5 of the 8 research grant holders, who are selected by a panel chosen for this purpose by the Steering Committee based on (i) the quality of their research project; and (ii) their academic performance in the first two semesters of the Programme.

RECIPIENTS

In order to receive a grant, recipients should satisfy the conditions set out in Article 30(1) of the Regime Jurídico dos Graus e Diplomas do Ensino Superior (Higher Education Diploma and Degree Legal Framework).³

Those eligible to apply are all students already admitted (1st Phase Applications) and all candidates who apply (2nd Phase Applications) to this Law School's PhD Programme in Law in its 2017/2018 Edition⁴ who are Portuguese nationals or citizens of other member states of the European Union; third-country nationals that hold valid residence permits or holders of long-term resident status;⁵ third-country nationals with whom Portugal has signed reciprocal agreements; third-country nationals, whenever the invitation for applications contains an individual interview selection method.⁶ Only Portuguese or foreign citizens who have permanent residence in Portugal may apply for grants for work programmes undertaken wholly or partly at foreign institutions.

³ Decree-Law no. 74/2006, 24th March (in its current version). N.B.: fulfilment of these conditions was verified by the Selection Committee in the case of candidates already admitted to the Programme.

⁴ Or who have been admitted as doctoral students in previous editions of this Law School's PhD Programme in Law. In this case, students will only be eligible to be attributed grants that should remain vacant after all eligible candidates from the 2017/2018 Edition have been attributed grants. Nonetheless, should they be selected and awarded a research grant (BI), they will be able to apply to the subsequent PhD studentships (BD) at par with their colleagues from the 2016/2017 Edition. Students who apply to the 2nd Phase Applications to this Programme may only benefit from a grant if they are admitted to the Programme.

been concluded on the date of submission of the application, it being required for a document evidencing the award of the degree to be submitted with this application, the mere provision of other evidence that the applicant has concluded the study cycle being insufficient;

if the academic degree or degrees in question were awarded by a foreign institution of higher education, submittal of the registration of the recognition of academic degree is required (process regulated by Decree-Law 341/2007 of 12th October) or, alternatively, the submittal of the process of equivalence/recognition regulated by Decree-Law 283/83 of 21st June. For more information, please check the General-Directorate of Higher Education's website at <http://www.dges.mctes.pt/DGES/pt> (information available in English). The degree's registration must be concluded on the date of submission of the application.

Important: the submittal of an application for an individual research grant does not exempt the applicant from the simultaneous submission of an application to this Law School's PhD Programme in Law (and vice-versa)!

The panel will take the obligatory documents submitted electronically at the time of application into account when making their assessment.

ASSESSMENT

The assessment of applications is made according to the provisions of this notice, in line with the applicable legal and regulatory provisions, considering factors of appreciation and producing an ordered list of candidates. Alternatively, the provisions of the 2017 FCT Assessment Guidelines for Individual Grant Schemes will be applied.¹³ Assessment of applications will be the responsibility of the Programme Selection Committee.

Applicants will be assessed solely on merit, taking into account the following parameters and their respective weighting:

- a) Academic curriculum vitae (50%);
- b) Scientific curriculum vitae (publications, other scientific production indicators and verified research experience) (20%);
- c) Relevant professional curriculum vitae (15%);
- d) Knowledge of English (10%);
- e) Work plan to be undertaken (5%).¹⁴

The assessment of applicants' merit must also include individual interviews.¹⁵

PUBLICATION OF RESULTS

The results of the assessment will be published by 15th September 2017 on the Law School's website and communicated to applicants by e-mail. The minutes of the Selection Committee meeting(s) will also be available for consultation.

Those applicants not selected to receive a grant have 10 working days after the publication of the results in which to request a hearing, according to the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Code. Appeals against the final decision can be made to FCT within 15 working days of the respective notification.

¹³ Available at http://www.fct.pt/apoios/bolsas/concursos/docs/Concurso_de_Bolsas_2017_Guiao_Avaliacao.pdf.

FUNDING

The grants awarded as part of this scheme will be funded from the Ministry of Education and Science State Budget and, when eligible, from the European Social Fund via the 2014-2020 operational programmes, Portugal 2020, the Human Capital Operational Programme in particular, and the Regional Operational Programme for the North, Centre or Alentejo, according to the provisions of the applicable Specific Regulation.
