Margarida Lima Rego is an Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Law of Universidade Nova de Lisboa (NOVA Law), where she has lectured regularly since 2005, and a Senior Lawyer at Morais Leitão, Galvão Teles, Soares da Silva & Associados, having joined its corporate and commercial team in 2002.

As an academic she has taught different courses and published in a wide range of topics within private and procedural law. She is currently lecturing on the Law of Obligations and on the Theory of Procedure (undergraduate) and on Banking and Insurance Law (postgraduate). She is also very active within NOVA Law's Doctoral Program in Law, being its representative at the NOVA Doctoral School.

As a practicing lawyer she has been very active in the area of corporate and commercial law. She has provided legal counseling in the setting up of varied operations on behalf of domestic and foreign clients, and in the drafting and negotiation of commercial contracts, with an emphasis on insurance. She has drafted legislation in the field of insurance law in her capacity as advisor to the Portuguese Government.

Ms. Lima Rego is a member of the Portuguese Bar Association. She is also a member of the Portuguese Chapter of the International Association for Insurance Law – AIDA Portugal, where she is a member of the Scientific Board for the term of office of 2011-2013, and of the Commercial Law and Practice Commission of the International Chamber of Commerce since March 2012.
